

Increasing ticket fares for domestic flights

Date	Reference Number	Implementation date
04 January 2016	201601042	Immediately

Due to the considerable increase in traffic loads on guest class for domestic flights. It has been approved to increase the fares as shown in the table below, starting from the 1st of January 2016.

The increase rate
Guest Class - U/Class	% 10
Guest Class- Q/Class	% 20

Notes:

1. Apply the new fares on guest class for domestic flights tickets (from / after) the 1st of January, 2016.
2. Tickets that were issued before January 1, 2016 for the guest class with confirmed bookings (from / after) January 1, 2016, will be accepted at the same previous fares without any additional difference.
3. If a guest has a ticket issued before January 1, 2016 and has a booking on / after the date of January 1, 2016 and wants to (reissue / rebooking), apply the new fares by using ATC (Automated Ticket Changer) or manually if ATC is not working, with collecting the fare difference and fees.
4. If a guest has a ticket issued before January 1, 2016 and has a booking on / after the date of January 1, 2016 and wants to upgrade the whole ticket or part of it, apply the new fares by using ATC or manually if the ATC is not working, with collecting the fare difference between the original old ticket price and the new fare for the upgraded class only.
5. Apply the new fares on all types of tickets.
6. All fares are updated automatically in GDS system for reservation and ticketing.
7. All Travel Service Providers must always verify the fare notes, conditions and fees (FARE RULES) which exist in their GDS system for reservation and ticketing before starting the process of reissue in order to be sure of the fees and restrictions.
8. If the ATC is not working, it is allowed to use the manual entries (send the cases that don't accept ATC to gdssupport@saudiairlines.com to be activated).
9. Apply all previous fees and fare conditions without any changes.
